THE
Daughter of a Plumber

WORDS AND MUSIC

BY

SMITH KEELER

Author of Miami City, Florida, Waltz

DEDICATED TO

MISS VERNE NELSON

Published by WILLIAMS BROS., St. Louis, Mo.

COPYRIGHT 1906, BY SMITH KEELER

THE DAUGHTER OF A PLUMBER

SMITH KEELER.

Tempo di Schottische.

Voice.

Piano

1 She was stop - ping at the 'Grand' 'mong the 2 There were suit - ors for her hand, They came

p weal-thy of the land, Had en-gaged the choicest rooms for all that Sum - mer, How she there from ev-'ry land, Princes, Dukes and Earls down to a Bos-ton Drum - mer, She Copyright MCMVI by Smith Keeler.

could af-ford to do it, not a guest could un - der-stand, 'Til they to them all was kind but their of - fers were de-clined, By this learned she was the daugh-ter of a Plumb - - er. She had cap - ti - va - ting daugh-ter of a Plumb - - er. Men laid dress-es by the score Pearls and Di - a-monds ga-lore, Ev - 'ry for-tunes at her feet, made in Stock up-on Wall street, But not thing she wore it sure - ly did be - come her, She was one could win words of ac - cept - ance from her, She was dain - ty she was graceful And in all things was most tasteful, this young coy and hard to please, Said "she'd wait un-til a freeze, when pipe

fas - ci - na - ting daugh-ter of a Plumb - - - er.
fit - ters in de-mand, she'd wed a Plumb - - - er."

CHORUS.

She like all true A - mer-i-can girls, Has no use for

Dukes and Earls, With dis - dain she spurns..... their emp - ty ti - tles from her, For this charming girl well knows,

While gas leaks and wa - ter flows, She'd have great - er

wealth..... were she to wed a Plumb - - er.